

WAIS[®] 5 “By the numbers”

The WAIS[®]-5 provides an empirically validated, psychometrically advanced up-to-date assessment of cognitive ability.

Subtests

20

total subtests

15 retained subtests from WAIS[®]-IV

5

new subtests

7

Working Memory
subtests

Composite scores

- 5 Primary Index Scores
- 5 Expanded Index Scores
- 15 Ancillary Index Scores
- 4 Summary composite scores
- 2 Special index scores for motor impairment or decline

Minutes to administer

(FSIQ plus Digits Forward)

(10 primary subtests plus Digits Forward)

Note: Digits Forward is required and the time to administer is reflected in these numbers.

3 ways to administer

Paper pencil, Q-global[®] digital assets with paper record form, and Q-interactive[®]

3 ways to score

Hand scoring, Q-global, and Q-interactive API

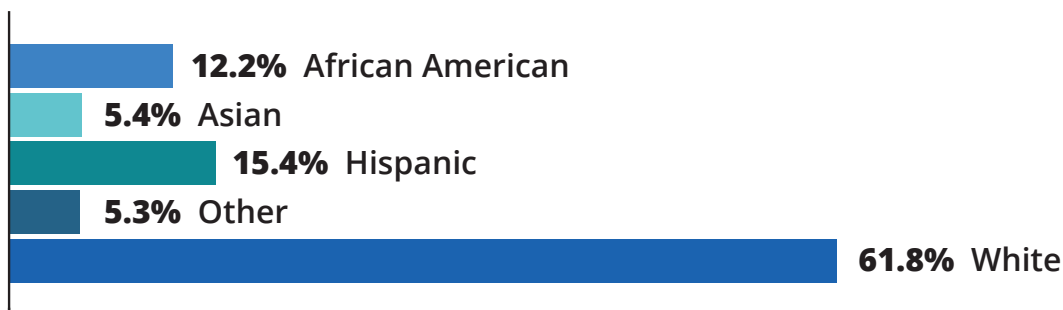

Normative sample

2020 examinees

Racial/ethnic origins of examinees in the WAIS-5 normative sample

Reliability and validity evidence

- Retest
- Interscorer agreement (Verbal Comprehension subtests)
- Validity with other measures
 - WAIS-IV
 - WISC®-V
 - DAS™-II NU School-Age
 - KBIT™-2 Revised
 - WIAT®-4
 - WRAML™3
 - PPVT™-5 and EVT™-3

Special group studies

- Intellectually Gifted
- Intellectual Disability, Mild and Moderate
- Specific Learning Disorder – Reading
- Specific Learning Disorder – Mathematics
- Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Traumatic Brain Injury, Moderate or Severe
- Mild Cognitive Impairment
- Probable Dementia of the Alzheimer's Type – Mild Severity
- Personal Protective Equipment
- English Language Learners

For training, sample reports, and more, visit PearsonAssessments.com/WAIS5.